My heart and prayers go out to friends and family. The last time I saw Rollie was when Fred Perry and I were bushhogging the property for him. One of the best times I had in my life. He and I sat in the porch and he talked about his home and how it built it himself. He loved that place. He invited me in to have a chicken sandwich, turns out it was fried chicken. He told me his daughter had brought and that she took such good care of him. The best chicken " sandwich" I ever had. God bless Rollie. He's in a better place than we are.
