My life as many others was touched by the love and friendship of Margie whose encouragement, support and advice were always sincere because she believed in the people around her in her community. Margie was a civic leader who built strong foundtions with unselfish creative imagination. She was one of a generation that had those rare gifts.##imported-begin##Dennis E. Dalton##imported-end##

I am happy and sad. Margie holds a special place in our hearts. She welcomed us to Waynesville just after we placed a bid on our house, left Der Dutchman and sought out more info on Waynesville. She greeted us at the Chamber of Commerce office with such joy, welcoming friendship and love of life. We are all escapees from Florida. We regaled in how much we like four seasons, the people of Waynesville, and look forward to living here. She is a beacon of goodness, a positive force in Waynesville, a model for good people, and a great friend. Her card in the heat of my desert deployment was and is cherished thought of home. May this help in some small way as you travel through this time of loss. Our positive vibes and prayers are headed to you Ray and Deanne##imported-begin##Ray and Deanne Otto##imported-end##

I extend my deepest condolences to Margie's family. I enjoyed my visits with her during the last few years. I know that she enjoyed several trips that she took with my late mother, Helen Williams, and that they always enjoyed talking on the phone. I extend my deepest sympathy to the family.##imported-begin##Neil Williams##imported-end##
