“ As a cousin to Dolores and fellow high school classmate, I was deeply saddened to receive the news of Dolores's death, though I know she had suffered much these last several years. I do believe her deep faith carried her through that suffering and she now experiences the joys of her heavenly father's home of many mansions of love and peace! God bless all you who comforted her during those trying times! I know from conversations with her that family meant so much to her. May God's loving embrace enfold you all during your time of grief ! Sincerely and with sympathy, Mary Grace Leech Devine.
